The Pennsylvania Fish Commission has had to combat the forces of ignorance, self-interest and lawlessness. It has been opposed by those who, caring nothing for the future, are solicatous only for the profits of the day, and have no thought of making the world better for those who may come after them. And yet, with threatning hossile legislation, and much that is disheartening to earnest endeavor, it may be sometimes permitted to the enthusiast in fish culture to prophetically read the far inture, in that mental panorama he sees our two noble rivers, the Delaware and Susquehama, teeming with food his for the people. ### Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, April 21, 1893. Editor of Compiler: Secretary Carlisle is daily proving himself to be the right man in the right place. He has not allowed himself to become anxious the week, brought about, as he firmly believes, by a combine of bankers who are seeking by a renewed demand for cold for shipment abroad to force an is sue of bonds. So firm is the Secretary politely, but positively, declined to accept an invitation extended him by New York city bankers to meet them in that gold problem he also, when it was sugcome to Washington to discuss the matter if he would invite them declined to do so. For the U.S. Treasury to be run entirely independent of Wall street men is something decidedly new, and compliments for Secretary Carlisle are heard on all sides, from Republicans as well as from Democrats. One gentle man, a personal friend, said: "Secretary conduct of the financial department of the Government in the past, and that they are largely responsible for the present situation. Consequently he has no idea of taking them into his confidence poses giving them a needed lesson by howing them that all the financial ability is not congregated in Wall street, ity is not congregated in Wall street, and that they cannot dictate the contry's financial programme." The firmness of Secretary Carlisle against an issue of bonds has already brought about a better condition of affairs, and it is believed that if those who wish to compel an issue of bonds became convinced that none will be isseed, the demand for gold for foreign shipment will soon resume its normal condition. The outlook is now considered much better than it was at the beginning of this wee's.

look is now considered much better than it was at the beginning of this week. Attorney General Olney has apparently been selected as the tarket at which to fire every slander and lie that is hatched up by the guttersnipes of the opposition and the sensational press. Che of the unost audacious of these was the ore which purported to give in detail the particulars of Representative Wilson, of West Virginia, being subbled by the Atwest Virginia, being snubbed by the Atto ney General, in the otice of the latter, which was published at a time when it was known that Mr. Wilson would be where he would not be likely to see the story until it had had about two days unbligity, and worst then the terms of the story of the st story until it had had about two days' publicity, and worse than that, some of the papers that printed the lie neglected to print Mr. Wilson's unqualified denial, which was telegraphed to them as soon as he read the article. The Attorney General, like the dignified geuiteman that he is, quietly performs his official duties, just as though the barking curs did not exist.

Many statements, some of them ridiculously absurd, have been made about President Cleveland's intentions concerning Hawaii. The fact of the matter is that he will await the report of Commissioner Blount before deciding what to do. It was because he did not consider the information at hand sufficiently definite to make up his mind what ought to be done that he se it Col. Blount to Hawaii. All statements to the contrary are merely guess-work, as neither the President nor Secretary Grecham will discuss the matter, that is, not for publication. ation. President Cleveland and Secretary

President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham have been investigating the working of the much-talked-about reciprosity treaties made under the authority of the McKinley tariff law, and it looks now as if they were one and all failures, and that they will have to go. Those with Brazil, and with Spain for Cuba and Porto Rico will probably be the first to be abolished as there have ing the market for American products there has been, in several countries, a marked falling off in our trade since the treaties went into effect. -Manure is not conductive to the thrift of very young trees. It is better to use artificial fertilizers the first year, such as ground bone and ashes, apply ing manure the second year. When transplanting young trees no manure or fertilizers should be applied in the hole made for roots. Simply place the top soil next the roots and firm the earth well around the tree.

-Over feeding is more general than feeding too little, especially in the summer. There is no necessity for giving an animal more than it requires. Pam ered stock is more liable to disease than any others. -A Western enchange believes that -Do not neglect spraying the fruit trees and vines until it is too late. The first application should be made before the blossoms appear, for the destruction of fungi, and repeat the work as often as it can be done to advantage after ward. Many of the so-called "blights" are due to fungi, and persistent work may give a crop where but little fruit has before been obtained. -Peach trees may be cut back at any time, and they seem to thrive well under severe pruning. When setting them out cut them down to a short stick, re moving all branches. This will make them stocky, and cause them to grow low to the ground. After they have made a good start in growth give an apof the ground. - Shallow covering of seeds has been found more favorable to germination than covering deeply. The small seeds such as lettuce, cabbage, turnins, par snips and carrots, need only enough dirt on them to shut out the light, but the ground must be very fine and deep. -One of the best modes of growing pats is to sow them and cut them when their heads are in the milky stage. As the natural juices of the plant are arrested in the stalk, on its way to fill out the grain, the nutritious matter of the straw is greater than when the seeds are permitted to fully mature and are then threshed. The "green" cats, cured in the milky stage, are fed to horses both the straw and the grain, by cutting the whole with a fodder cutter, and the food is highly relished. -There is no calling on earth that is

It is true when times are depressed he will be short of money, but as long as seed time and harvest pursue each other he vill always have an abundance to live — ▲ good sheep will give its owne

$1.50 per year in wool; and if she raises a lamb, the farmer will, on an average, get $3.50 for it. This makes an income of $5 per head, and no kind of stock for the capital and labor invested. Ferlin, More sheep for wool and mutton combined. Last year, Samuel Terry had 32 ewes and raised from them 51 lambs which he sold at $5 a head. This, with the wool, made him a very neat income from his stock. He considers his sheep more profitable than any of his other stock .- Mirror and Farmer. - After the plants have been taken from the hot-bed do not permit the hot-bed to grow a crop of weeds, but use it as a cold frame. It is just the thing for lettuce, or the tender plants may be started in it on pieces of sod. Any use for it is better than that of weed growing. - Spinach may be sown, and a succes

Another simple help (casally obtained) is, the use of oyster shells; place one in the tea kettle and it will keep the crust from forming on the inside. When the clinkers begin to collect on the firebrick after using the poker, etc., until you begin to despair of getting them off without breaking the brick, place a few oyster shells on the coals when the fire is hot, and see how soon the clinkers will scale off.

accumulation usually burnt or thrown aside as rubbish. If your changes has been misplaced or chance of repienishing it, or any of your favorite helps for rapid window washing missing, do not decide that it will be drudgery without them, but try newspapers, and I am sure you will use them in the future in preference to the expensive helps which you use to consider necessary. Rub a large piece of newspaper in the hands until soft, wipe off the glass with a damp cloth and quickly polish it with the paper; the printer's ink will make the glass shine and you will be surprised to find how quickly it is done.

will be surprised to make is done.

A flat tea kettle, for instance, wide and shallow, in which water can be hurriedly boiled, is a convenience which no housekeeper should be without. An alcohol lamp, or a contrivance to fasten upon a gas jet, so that the flame may spread quickly under the surface of the kettle, will often save time when it is necessary to heat water for an invalid's

PUBLIC ROADS.

READ DEFORE THE ADAMS COUNTY

We frequently hear it said that there ave been no improvements made in our public roads during the past 40 or 5 rears; that our taxes bave been waste ipon idle farmers, leaning upon their bovel handles, giving no equivalent in work for the amount paid them per day. But if we are candid, and take into consideration facts, we cannot help seeing that much has been done.

Being fully acquainted with about all the improvements that have been made on the Gritisburg and Cathale road, from its investion with the control of the co om its junction with the Newvill and, I would state, that to the best o road, t would state, that to the best of my knowledge, there have been during the time mentioned, 30 or more bridges and culverts built between the point named and the Cumberland line, a dis-tance of about 13 miles. Those that were there belore the time mentioned can be counted on the lingers of one hand.

If the horses could speak, they would give thanks for the change. How often I pitied them, when, in mid-winter, and leated by a long hard drive, they were computed to drive the load, they were compelled to draw the load through the bracking ice, slipping and splashing their way to the opposite bank. The road referred to has been further improved by the side-cutting of Bayly's little and the partial grading of others; the filling up of low, swampy places with stone and gravel, the underdraining of springs and other general improvements of road-bed. Now, as this read masses through in the standard of the s road passes through six townships, may it not be considered a fair sample o it not be considered a fair sample of the roads of the county?

But we must not inter from this that our roads are all they should be. Much yet remains to be done in the way of improvement. For instance, there are many hills that by side-cutting or making a short cut at the top and filling at the foot would reduce the grade one fourth or one-half.

In winter when there is much snow many of our roads drift shut, often requiring a special tax to open them, be-BUILDERS' & MECHANICS' HARDWARE, many of our roads drift shut, often requiring a special tax to open them, besides leaving a large body of snow to melt gradually, thus keeping the roads in an almost impassible condition until late in the spring. Most of this could be avoided it instead of rail and board, wire tences were put up, which would not check the drifting snow.

There are between Centre Mills and Idaville several miles of road that I have never known to be in a cut up condition. The reason for this is the road-bed consists of a gray flint gravel with the most perfect natural dramage, both of surface and sub-soil. Now, this should be an object lesson to us, showing that what we want to have better roads is a more thorough system of drainage, which, I think can be demonstrated to the Institute by an experiment which has been going on in your presence for a short time. This piece of brick was perfectly dry when placed in an inch of water and now it is wet to the top, or will be until we are through the top, or will be until we are through This illustrates how through capillary attraction the water at the bottom of our road-beds affect our dirt roads our road-beds affect our dirt roads, making it impossible to have good roads until this supply of water is taken water that falls in rain upon the surface not be checked by that rising, but unhindered, would find its way out through the tiles. With such drainage a lew days of sur and wind would be much more effective in drying the roads.

Let us now took at the cost. Tile, at $15 per thousand would amount to $105.50 per mile; ditching, at 25 cents per rod, $80; total, $185.60 per single drain. It would cost something for definition.

drain. It would cost something for delivery, and perhaps for stone and gravel where needed. An experienced ditcher would know just where to place them to do the most good, or to be most effective.

I have frequently seen creek gravel used on undrained roads, and in a year or two it was lost in the mud; where red shale was used, in about the same length of time it changed from stone to mud. Yet, I have no doubt that if a good layer of shale was put down and covered with creek gravel, thus keeping it from exposure, that it would last for years.

I have had about three-fourths of a nile of road to keep up for the last nine years, and have put into practice a little of all that is here recommended. It is the "stitch in time" that keeps the roads in good condition, and if we would have ours better we must chappe would have ours better we nust change somewhat our system of road-making, adopting improved methods.

It is to be hoped that some good may come from the study of this important question which seems clearly to indicate the fact, that if we want a more economical and improved road system, which will yield the most permanent good for the money expended; we must relegate to the rear the old time-honored custom of "working out our road tax" and in its stead pay it in money.

As much as 1,000 pounds of artificial fertilizer has been applied to one acre of potatoes, which may appear as a very expensive application, but as the yield of tubers was over 1,000 bushels the expense was but little compared with the gain.

—Radishes are hardy, and the seeds may be sown early. The ground should be very rich, so as to force them in growth which causes them to be crisp.

Fifteen Thousand Dollars

Seems like a large sum for one firm to have invested in readymade Clothing in Gettysburg.

It is true, nevertheless, and as the senior member of the firm wishes to withdraw and that they may turn this into good hard cash, Stine & Son are selling their entire stock off at cost.

Just step in and examine goods and learn prices.

What is

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea-the Mother's Friend. Castoria.

Castoria. "Castoria is an excellent medicine for chii dren. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children." Da. G. C. Oscoop,

" Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria ininterest of their children, and use Castoria in-stead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throsts, thereby sending

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 Sc. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y. "Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the rundle of Castoria has won us to look with Avor upon it."

merce, N. Y., Lewis Windmuller, chairman of the committee on Internal Trade and Improvements, offered a resolution providing that the Chamber recommend to the Legislature the passage of a law providing that the towns and counties be compelled to macadamize roads. This was adopted. We are almost led to believe that we are approaching the summit of equality before the law, where it will be determined whether the Nation shall continue to be a Government of the people, by the people, and for all the people, white, black or red; or, whether it is to be run in the interest of cliques and claus for the oppression of the peor, in order that they may ride through the country dry shod, viewing their rich domains and gathering the taxes. In order to avert such a calamity the vital question now comes to us as farmers and laborers, are we ready to stand together as a wall of protection around our around Republic, casting aside party ties until all its subjects alike are made to pay their full share of all the taxes necessary for its improvements and existence? Then, and not until then, will we be willing to join hands with them in a movement for good roads. "Our doubts are traitors and make us lose the good we oft might win by fearing to attempt," and failing to write in making our requests.

We must not forget that our law.

attempt," and failing to write in making our requests.

We most not forget that our law-makers are our public servants, and that we have a perfect right to see to it that we as a class, are not discriminated against; but that we are placed upon an equal footing with every other industry or enterprise. We should ask nothing more, we should be satisfied with nothing less. Then, with such a sategnard thrown around the old homestead they will ever remain the bulwarks of civil and religious liberty, from which, in the future, as in the past, may come forth the men fitted for the times.
